THE COVADONGA LAKES

Nestled within the National Park, in the Cornión massif, are the Lakes of Covadonga: Lake Enol and Lake Ercina. At an altitude of over 1,000 metres, weather conditions at the lakes can fluctuate, so do bring warm layers and appropriate footwear. There are a series of signposted walks with a range of different lengths and difficulty levels, so you can choose whichever one suits you best. Don’t forget to make a stop at the La Picota scenic viewpoint and take in this stunning landscape with its unique blend of lakes and peaks - it’s a view you’ll never forget!

REAL SITIO DE COVADONGA

Nature, religion and history all converge in Covadonga, a pilgrimage site and must-see for all visitors. Right on the mountain where the Kingdom of Asturias begins is the Santa Cueva de Covadonga, which is home to the image of the Virgin of Covadonga, a neo-Romanesque chapel and the tomb of Pelayo. From its foundations on the Cerro del Cueto elevation, offering unfettered views of Covadonga. The neo-Romanesque Basílica de Santa María la Real de Covadonga (1901) rises proudly to the image of the Virgin of Covadonga, which is home to the image of the Virgin of Covadonga, a neo-Romanesque chapel and the tomb of Pelayo I of Asturias. Directly below is a beautiful natural pool created by the Deva River waterfall. This unique blend of lakes and peaks - it’s a view you’ll never forget!

ACCESS VIA PUBLIC TRANSPORT

To safeguard the Picos de Europe National Park, an access plan for the Covadonga Lakes has been designed to ensure the sustainability of this unique enclave. This plan restricts access on the busiest, peak days.

The rest of the year, visitors can access the lakes in private vehicles with no restrictions in place. However, the National Park’s Management, in accordance with its own conservations regulations, may need to implement additional restrictions should the access road get backed up or if the parking facilities in the vicinity of the lakes are full (measures will be taken when these car parks reach 90% occupancy).
